Note for the Pangong – Nubra Road

Keep in mind that, this is a remote route is Ladakh and it is a bit desolate and most are the road is dirt road/ track

Need to start early in the morning, as this road pass through many water flows and off-road areas. The water flows get overfull by afternoon as the ice from the peaks melt by sunlight in day time. So need to cover this road as early as possible.

Another important thing is that, you may come back to Leh if road closed by the Indian Military for security reason or cause of any sudden flood situation on way

Ladakh Shopping tips – The keyword to remember while shopping in Ladakh is the bargain. The need for it cannot be over-emphasized. Even when a shop says the price is fixed, it is pretty flexible in reality, so don't hesitate to indulge in some good old haggling. Also, when you purchase silver jewellery, check that you aren't being passed off a fake at the price of genuine silver, by checking the hallmark on the jewellery.

Items - Tibetan Handicrafts & Wares, Silver and Stone Jewellery, Pashmina Shawls And Woolens, Apricots' Jam, Oil - Enjoy the bounty of dried or freshly harvested apricots grown locally and abundantly in Ladakh and its neighbouring areas. You can also find organic apricot jam and oil while shopping in Leh Ladakh, to make the most of the luscious fruit!

Areas - Main Bazaar (Leh), Tibetan Handicraft Community Showroom (Choglamsar – In Leh), Moti Market in Leh.

Tips to stay in Pangong: One either can visit Pangong lake as an excursion or can stay there for a night.

Pangong lake and its surroundings make an extraordinarily beautiful landscape. It's 5 hours from Leh, which means returning the same evening gives you hardly any time to appreciate this surreal landscape. Staying overnight at the eco camp is a great way to enjoy the place. Do keep in mind that

- 1- The camp has very basic facilities.
- 2- It is too much cold and windy, even in May. (Pangong is at 14000 ft)
- 3- There is no mobile connectivity

. . . But it's an unforgettable experience

NOTE - Carry caps, mufflers and wind breaker jacket as it gets really wind here at Pangong lake. try to avoid fried and heavy food during the journey.

Tips for the Houseboat stay:

1) Be wise with the location:

Make sure the location you pick is serene and peaceful. Lake Dal is the most famous spot where the majority of houseboats are located. But it can get overcrowded and commercial really fast. Instead, you could go to Nageen Lake which is smaller and quieter and just as picturesque.

2) Access and mobility:

Some of these boathouses have road access while some can only be accessed with a shikhara or smaller rowboats. Depending on how much freedom you want you can choose from the two accordingly.

3) Although its different experience of the Kashmir, Still you have to take some precautions like not to dropped the water outside of bathtub in washrooms, There are bathtubs in the bathrooms but one supposed to use a bucket for bathing, as they use the bathtub to collect the used water to drain properly. Not as we use the bath-tub regularly in other 4 star/ 5 star hotels.
