Sightseeing and Shopping notes

Jaisalmer – Jaisalmer’s Golden fort – Located in desert and constructed by Rawal jaisal in 12th century. Made by Yello sand stone.

Sam Sand Dunes (Desert) – Sam sand Dunes is the closest point to witness the total sandy desert. One can also see the patterns and motifs created shifting sand and air. More ever the sam sand dunes also provide you an unforgettable experience of camel ride and the sun set, Our stay will be in the tent where you can also witness the fantastic folk dance show followed by the dinner under the starry sky.

Tanot mata Mandir - The story of Tanot mata Temple at the Longewala border in Rajasthan is one such miraculous tale. The goddess didn't let any Pakistani tank bomb explode. IMP Note - This place is not a part of our sightseeing, as a separate permission required to be taken from Indian Military people on the spot / or a day earlier. So our driver or hoteliers will help you for the same and will charge an additional amount over there.

Havelis (Mansions) – Visit the famous Havelis known for their frescoes. Some of the haveliers are still in the condition. The most elaborate and magnificent of all the Jaisalmer havelis is Patwaon Ki haveli; Build between 1800 – 1860. Some more Havelis are also there - Salin singh ki Haveli, Nathmal Ki haveli etc.

Shopping in Jaisalmer - From the swirls of golden sand dunes to the rainbowed hues in its streets stalls, Jaisalmer is the perfect place to imbibe the authentic Rajasthani vibe. The local craftsmanship deserves all the praise, and this is the reason Jaisalmer happens to be a perfect place for shopping in Rajasthan. - Sadar Bazar – The wholesale market that sells everything

Jodhpur – The city is totally dominated by a massive fort sprawled across 125-meter-high hill; known as Mehran-gadh Fort. Visit Mehran gadh fort, founde by Rao Jodha in 15th Century. Jodhpur is popularly known as ‘Blue city’ because of the many houses are painted in indigo colour.

Jaswant Thada – White marble memorial to maharaja Jaswant Singh II; built in 1899

Visit Sardar Bazar and clock tower market for shopping.

- Shopping in Jodhpur - The Blue City of Rajasthan, has so much to offer right from splendid monuments, vibrant culture and of course stuff you cannot resist buying. Right from antiques to Rajasthani accessories, you name it and you’ll be spoiled with myriad options.
- Sadar Bazar – The wholesale market that sells everything
- Nai Sarak – Take home the best of Rajasthani signature fabric, Bandhani
