Wake up to a lazy breakfast and today you have a great options:

- Universal Studios Japan is Osaka’s answer to Tokyo Disneyland. Although it wasn’t open while we were researching this guide, word has it that the park is a faithful reproduction of the American park, complete with all manner of movie-themed rides, stores and shops. But we need to keep in mind that all the signages and announcements are only in Japanese. Full day is a must as there are nine areas in the park which has to be explored... like New York, Hollywood, San Francisco, Jurassic Park Snoopy Studios, Lagoon, Water world, Amity Village, Land of Oz, and so on.. Return back in the evening to the hotel.

OR

- One day excursion tour to Hiroshima by Shinkansen bullet train with visits world heritage sites including Itsukushima shrine in Miyajimaisland, the Atomic bomb dome and the Peace Memorial Museum in central Hiroshima.

OR

- One day excursion tour to Kyoto: After you transfer from Osaka station to Kyoto station by JR local express train (non-reserved seat), this tour starts with a visit to Nijo Castle, once used as the Tokugawa Shogun's family palace. Then you will visit Kinkakuji Temple, one of the sacred sites of Japan. Afterwards, it's on to Kyoto Imperial Palace, former residence of the Imperial Family. After lunch, you will visit the vermilion-hued Heian Jingu Shrine, a magnificent structure strongly influenced by the Chinese architecture. Then on to the Sanjusangendo Temple with its 1,001 impressive images of Buddha. Then you will visit to the Kiyomizu Temple, famous for its wooden veranda. You will return to Osaka on board a JR local express train (non-reserved seat). The tour ends at Osaka station.
